What We spend Money For.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Miller figures that we consumed 6,090,000,000 glasses of whisky last year, for which we paid over the bar the almost incomprehensible sum of $609,000,000 or $50,000, 000 more than all the annual appropriations of congress. We consumed over 8 1.19 1,000 gallons of whisky, brandy and distilled spirits. This represents a con sumption of 100 glasses of whisky each year for every man, woman and child between the rock bound Pacific and the storm-tossed Atlantic, or counting only male adults, 500 gallons for each. O: beer the figures are equally astounding. The consumption was 31,562,345 barrels. that is 12.785,169,200 glasses, representing an expenditure for this mode of hilarity of $617,258,460, or about $10 for each inhabitant. There seems to be returning commo nee in the sir. The resolution of the scent agricultural congress that met in Savannah, Georgia, recently, in passing a reso ution favorable to railroade is one of the evidences: That the prejudice e cited among farmers against railroad was injurious, and that their interest were more allied than antagonistic.

We are glad to see this once more. Railroads are necessarily monopolizers of transportation, but they must transport to live, and oppressive rates only cut off business. There is no business in the world where competition acts so freely and so advantageously as it does mong railways for the benefit of the shipper.
